

GLEN GIOVANNETTI
Ernst & Young
Global Life Sciences Sector Leader

Glen is Ernst & Young's Global Life Sciences Sector Leader. Glen has over 28 years of experience with Ernst & Young, the majority serving clients in the biotechnology and medical device industries. He has extensive experience in assisting clients with strategic transactions including equity and debt offerings, technology licensing and R&D collaborations, joint ventures and acquisitions.

Glen leads a team focused on understanding the evolving needs of clients in the life sciences industry, monitoring trends and business drivers, and networking and informing Ernst & Young professionals serving the life sciences industry globally. The team is also responsible for producing Ernst & Young Thought Leadership publications on the industry including the annual reports Progressions (Life Sciences), Beyond Borders (Biotechnology) and Pulse of the Industry (Medtech). Glen is a frequent speaker at life sciences industry events around the globe.

Prior to assuming his present role, Glen was a partner in the Ernst and Young's Silicon Valley practice and also spent three years in the firm's Milan, Italy office. He is a member of the board of directors of the Biotechnology Industry Organization, chairs the New England Funding the Next Discovery (an event that raises money for early cancer research), and is a member of the Leadership Council of The Schwartz Center for Compassionate Care at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Glen graduated from Linfield College with a BA in Accounting.