

Austrian Arbitration Academy

17. - 29. JULI 2016

The Austrian Arbitration Academy is a two-week intensive program within the Summer University for both regular students of the Summer University and participants who take part only in this special arbitration course. It addresses students and law school graduates interested in the world of international dispute resolution and young practitioners looking for a comprehensive course giving them first-hand insights from the world of international arbitration.

WilmerHale Consultant Paul Oberhammer acts as course director, and the classes will be taught by first class international arbitration practitioners from both the bar and academia, including WilmerHale Counsel Michelle Glassman Bock and Helmut Ortner.
