

ABA Section of Antitrust Law - Considering the “But-For” World in Reverse Payment Litigation

DECEMBER 9, 2016

WilmerHale Partner Mark Ford will participate in this webinar hosted by the American Bar Association and sponsored by the Antitrust and Intellectual Property Law Sections. Assessing the “but-for” world is an essential component of reverse payment litigation but to date has received less attention than other issues, such as what constitutes a payment. The panel will provide an update on reverse payment litigation with a focus on “but-for” world considerations. The panel will also discuss new research on Paragraph IV litigation outcomes as well as the use of stock price event studies to assess the but-for world.
