

Managing Cybersecurity Due Diligence in Technology M&A Transactions

SEPTEMBER 12, 2017

Cybersecurity threats pose a substantial legal and financial risk to transacting parties in high technology industries around the world. This CLE webinar is intended to provide transactional attorneys and in-house counsel with an overview of the tools needed to effectively manage cybersecurity due diligence within the context of high technology merger and acquisition transactions. Leading practitioners, including WilmerHale Special Counsel Jason Chipman, will discuss how to identify, evaluate and manage an acquisition target's cybersecurity strengths and weaknesses throughout and beyond the deal-making process.

Discussion topics will include analysis of a hypothetical target's internal cybersecurity program, compliance with applicable cybersecurity and privacy law, and international cybersecurity risk mitigation strategies.
