

2017 ISG Sourcing Industry Conference

OCTOBER 11-13, 2017

Top ISG thought leaders and guest speakers will explore how enterprises are investing in new digital technologies today and preparing for the technologies and services they'll be buying tomorrow.

WilmerHale Partner Robert Finkel will participate in the panel "Cognitive & Automation: Killer or Transformer" on October 12. With the advent of automation technologies and clients building out their own capabilities, what does the future hold? Will the proliferation of technologies drive service provider futures, or kill them? What are clients trying to achieve? This panel discussion will focus on how service providers can address these issues, as well as plan for a future where these technologies can be leveraged into a model of client success.
