

Center for Innovative Technology and MACH37 Uniting Women in Cyber Symposium

MARCH 29, 2018

The Center for Innovative Technology and MACH37 will hold the first annual Uniting Women in Cyber Symposium on Thursday, March 29, 2018. The event will feature discussions focused on the success of women leaders in today's cybersecurity ecosystem and will identify and address issues and challenges affecting women in the industry. The symposium will include guests from corporate, government, academia, investment and nonprofit institutions to create visibility and collaboration among women in the cybersecurity space.

WilmerHale Partner Stephanie Evans will provide commentary during the closing keynote address, "Code Girls – The Untold Story of the American Women Code Breakers of World War II." WilmerHale is also a sponsor of the symposium.
