

Boston Bar Association Life Sciences Conference

BOSTON, MA

This fall, the Boston Bar Association will host its second annual Life Sciences Conference, featuring panels that will explore the interplay between the life sciences sector and the law. Home to biotech startups, leading research institutions, multinational pharmaceutical companies, and venture capital firms, Boston is at the forefront of the life science industry and the Boston Bar is the industry's hub for legal expertise. Don't miss the premier networking conference for life sciences practitioners. The goal of this conference is to provide a unique educational opportunity for all life sciences practitioners to exchange ideas and learn about new perspectives and critical changes in life sciences through panels covering corporate, regulatory, and intellectual property law.

WilmerHale Partner Stuart Falber is serving on the 2017 Conference Advisory Committee. Partners Belinda Juran will speak on a panel session entitled "Collaborating with Competitors" and Bruce Mannheim will speak on the topic "Developments from DC."
