

Cost Proposal Preparation

Hale and Dorr is a co-sponsor for the Small Business Innovation Research Programs in New Jersey. Three one day programs are being held to provide New Jersey science and technology entrepreneurs and small businesses with training and information that is intended to help them compete more effectively for grants and contracts.

The second in the series is a workshop focusing on the important issue of cost proposal and government accounting requirements. Topics discussed will include indirect costs, audits and record keeping requirements and how to prepare a simple but defensible indirect cost rate.
