

From Bleak House to Geek House: Evolving Law for Entrepreneurial Lawyers

APRIL 4, 2014

Join legal entrepreneurs and international visionaries in law, entrepreneurship and innovation for discussions, demonstrations and networking. Participants in this symposium will focus on the challenges and opportunities that are changing legal education and the practice of law. This program will feature engaging talks and panels on new issues facing the legal system, changes in law and legal practice that are both needed and are underway, and how the future of law and legal practice might look. In addition to the presentations and talks, the program will also include demonstrations of forward-looking legal products and services exemplifying the new face of law practice.

WilmerHale Managing Director of DiscoverySolutions Steven Berrent is a featured speaker at this event. He will be participating on the panel "The Lawyer as 'CTO,'" which will explore the role of the lawyer in emerging ventures and tech policy information.
