

MCLE Handling Commercial Loan Transactions

MAY 29, 2014

WilmerHale Partner John Sigel will be a featured speaker at MCLE's Handling Commercial Loan Transactions. Commercial loans are a key source of working capital for businesses. Structuring, documenting, and closing a commercial loan transaction from term sheet to funding requires today's deal lawyers to have a firm grasp of all aspects of commercial loan documentation and relevant commercial law. A panel of experienced lawyers will discuss these important topics in the context of today's commercial lending environment and provide an overview of the key provisions of the basic loan and security documents with an emphasis on the best practices for negotiating these documents—whether as borrowers counsel or lenders counsel.
