

MIT Enterprise Forum: A VC Perspective - How to Get Funded

WEBINAR

One challenge almost all entrepreneurs face is how to get funding to bridge the gap, whether that gap is from promising prototype to actual product, from interesting molecule to licensable drug candidate, from beta test to exponential growth or some other expensive transition. If you are new to getting funded, you may not feel comfortable determining when is the right time to take money or from whom. You may have fantasies about meeting a VC at a networking event, giving them your elevator pitch and getting a check on the spot. Time for a reality check.

In this webinar, Graham Brooks, Partner at .406 Ventures, will take you through the essentials of the fundraising process. If you are interested at all in VC funding, this webinar is a great opportunity to get his perspective, and to ask him the questions you've always wanted a VC to answer.
