

MIT Enterprise Forum: Interested in Angel Investing?

BOSTON, MA

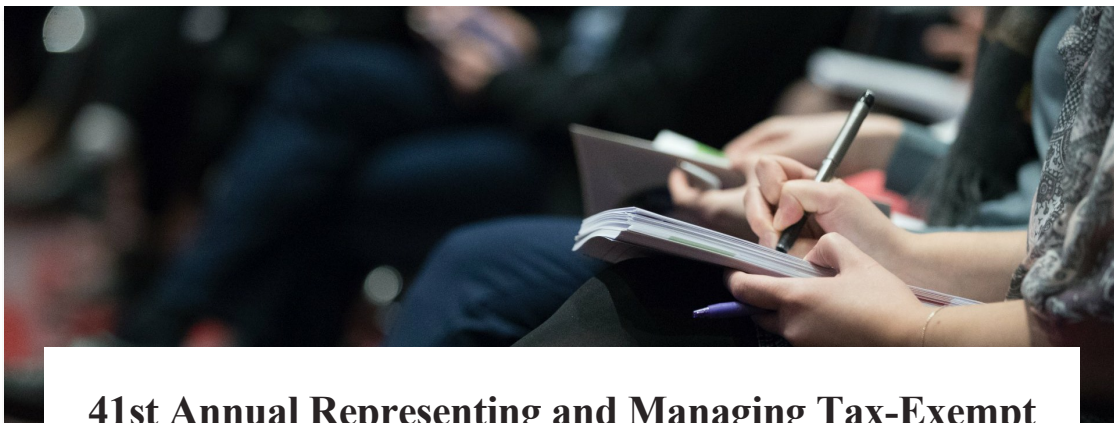

Thanks to the JOBS Act, for the first time in more than 80 years the average Joe/Jane can invest early stage companies. Sounds great, right? Before you make your first investment, or even if you've already dabbled, take this class.

Invest Smart was created by experienced investors to help take the 'mystery' out of angel investing. The course is designed specifically for accredited, non-experienced investors to learn what it takes to be a successful, profitable angel investor.

Additionally, non-accredited investors interested in investing in startups via the Jumpstart Our Business Act (JOBS Act) Title III Equity Crowdfunding rules are encouraged to join the class as well.
