

Northern Virginia Technology Council: Committee Connection

2008-05-15

Achieving business success in the Northern Virginia tech arena requires a networking strategy. Build your network of contacts through participation in an NVTC committee. NVTC's committees offer technology professionals opportunities to meet, discuss and learn more about the issues which are directly affecting their businesses. Active participation in committee meetings and programs, and sponsorships can offer solid networking opportunities, increased brand exposure, committee leadership potential and possible presentation and panel opportunities.
