

PLI's Global Capital Markets & the US Securities Laws 2013: Raising Capital in an Evolving Regulatory Environment

Capital markets are adjusting to a wide range of evolving regulatory standards which affect the way in which offerings are conducted around the world. At the same time, issuers around the world are subject to changing accounting and corporate governance standards, while market participants navigate new ground in derivative product regulation. Issuers and market participants also face an increasingly active global enforcement environment targeting activities taking place around the world. This program will keep securities lawyers up-to-date on domestic and international regulatory and market developments, bringing together an engaging group of expert practitioners and senior regulators for an in-depth look at how the US securities laws work in the context of a rapidly evolving global regulatory environment.

WilmerHale Partner Matthew Chambers will be participating in a panel titled, "Alternative Investment Vehicles and Derivatives Regulation" during which he will contribute to a discussion on private equity and hedge fund regulation, the Investment Company Act and broker-dealer issues in global practice, EU and SEC approaches to alternative investment funds and developments with global derivatives regulation.
