

Practising Law Institute: 50th Antitrust Law Institute

MAY 11-12, 2009

With an increasing number of Supreme Court decisions in critical areas of antitrust law, and with a new administration for antitrust enforcement, this year's Institute will examine - with emphasis on both basic principles and new developments - the elements of alleged price fixing, competitor collaborations, rules for dominant firms, various restraints on customers and suppliers, including the current status of resale price maintenance, current merger analysis and enforcement, standards for compliance with U.S. price discrimination laws, and the strategies and priorities of the antitrust enforcers including increased cooperation among U.S. and foreign competition authorities. Learn practical tips from mock demonstrations of counseling on antitrust compliance. Hear from an all-star team of nationally-known practitioners and key government regulators, and keep current with the latest issues in this hot practice area.

WilmerHale partner William Kolasky will be a featured speaker at this Institute. He will speak on the topic of "Cartels and Other Horizontal Relationships."
