

Practising Law Institute: Institutional Investor Forum 2010

2010-01-27

This event, presented by PLI, will focus on the complex legal challenges involved in successfully managing investment portfolios and the critical role that attorneys and compliance professionals play in ensuring that an investor's investment goals are successfully met. Attendees will have the opportunity to hear law firm attorneys, regulatory officials and senior executives at leading institutional investors and alternative investment managers discuss key issues and practical solutions to the legal and regulatory challenges investors face today. Topics to be discussed include: How recent changes to Delaware and offshore law are impacting investment deal documentation; an analysis of recent regulatory and enforcement initiatives affecting institutional investors; changes to traditional investment fund structures and key features associated with different alternative investment vehicles; latest trends in private equity deal terms and impact on negotiating points; corporate governance - what matters to institutional investors and how to maximize influence on corporate management; due diligence considerations to avoid fraud and other operational risks; and practical drafting tips on deal documentation and investment structuring points.

WilmerHale partner Matthew Chambers will be a featured speaker at this event. He will speak during the session entitled "Federal and State

Regulatory Roundup."
