

Practising Law Institute: Subprime Credit Crisis: Everything You Need to Know Now

2008-03-05

The residential mortgage market is the biggest credit market in the world, with about $10 trillion in outstanding loans. Residential real estate is a huge asset class, with an aggregate value of about $21 trillion. The current credit crises had a serious impact on financial services industry and markets, has forced bankruptcy and foreclosures, and has created serious issues of liability on the part of a number of players. Further, federal banking, state law enforcement agencies and the SEC is currently investigating practices and approaches to asset valuation. This comprehensive one-day program will provide the guidance and practice tips that all attorneys need to know whether you practice in the field of securitization, general corporate and securities law, banking or litigation.

WilmerHale partner, Russell Bruemmer who is a co-chair of the event, will also be a featured speaker. Practising Law Institute will host this event.
