

Practising Law Institute: Venture Capital 2009: Nuts and Bolts

2009-03-23

Venture capital is a fast moving business where understanding current market practice, deal terms and conditions, transaction documents and applicable securities, tax and employment law is critical. This program, presented by PLI, is designed for those new to the venture capital field, and will give attendees the core knowledge of venture capital basics. PLI's expert faculty of lawyers, venture capitalists and business executives will analyze the legal and business issues you need to know to actively and successfully participate in today's venture capital world. Also addressed will be latest financing trends, current deal terms, exit strategies, and the legal and practical implications of the new securities laws on the venture capital market.

WilmerHale partner Graham Robinson will be a featured speaker at this event. Graham will speak during the portion of the program entitled "Exit Strategies."
