

QuickLaunch University Webinar—Seed Fundraising: How to Get Organized, Attract Investors and Negotiate Your First Round

WEBINAR

Join us for WilmerHale's QuickLaunch University Webinar Series: Legal Issues for Startups. Attorneys from our Emerging Company and Venture Capital Practice will explore the most critical issues facing entrepreneurs and early-stage companies.

Raising capital can be a long and difficult process. What can you do to make your initial fundraising process go as smoothly as possible? From 1–2 p.m. ET, our presenters will discuss the seed fundraising process to demystify what it means to raise an initial round of capital.

Having worked with hundreds of entrepreneurs and startups, Partners Jason Kropp and Jeff Stein will discuss how to think about different investment mechanisms and prepare your company and yourself for the fundraising process. They will be joined by Jere Doyle, managing director at Sigma Prime Ventures and investor and advisor to dozens of technology startups. Doyle will provide an inside look on how to optimize the fundraising process—from selecting the right investors and getting introductions to closing the round.
