

Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association: 2009 Market Structure Conference

2009-05-20

SIFMA will present its 10th Annual Market Structure Conference that will address the latest regulatory, business and structural changes that are impacting the markets. From financial regulatory reform efforts to exchange mergers, innovative trading platforms, and new global trading strategies, the fundamental changes that are currently taking place are not only greater than ever before but will dramatically impact the structure of markets for years to come.

WilmerHale Partner Andre Owens will moderate a panel entitled "Recent Regulatory Initiatives and Future 'Wish List'." This panel will focus on the latest efforts to harmonize customer protection and trading rules and the procedures for cancelling trading errors, as well as the impact on the industry of these efforts.
