

Society of Corporate Secretaries & Governance Professionals Annual National Conference: Resilience in the New Reality

JUNE 25-28, 2014

The Society of Corporate Secretaries & Governance Professionals National Conference will host its annual conference in Boston this June, offering a comprehensive program with 28 breakout sessions and eight plenary sessions, plus time to network with fellow members. Corporate environments have faced incredible change over the last several years. The new reality of cybersecurity, changes in shareholder base and activism and disclosure reform, are just a few of the issues that are now stretching and challenging the minds of corporations. This new reality requires a new resilience.

WilmerHale Partner Meredith Cross will participate as a panelist for the breakout session “Shareholder Proposals and the Exclusion Process.”
