

The American Bar Association: Antitrust Section: 2007 Fall Forum

2007-11-15

The ABA Antitrust Section's 2007 Fall Forum brought together senior government enforcers, experienced practitioners and respected scholars that addressed some of the most important antitrust issues currently facing businesses and their antitrust counselors. The two-day program featured presentations by federal and state antitrust enforcers about their enforcement priorities for 2008. It also included sessions on many cutting edge antitrust and competition law and policy issues with domestic and international implications. This Forum is a designed program for antitrust lawyers seeking to keep abreast of the latest developments and the latest thinking on key issues facing their clients.

WilmerHale partner Doug Melamed was a featured speaker at the event on November 15. He spoke on the topic of "Monopolization and Dominance: Legal Standards For Single-Firm Conduct."
