

WilmerHale Employment Law Update - 2006

2006-11-07

Join us for the annual WilmerHale Labor and Employment Update, where experienced lawyers from our US and UK offices will examine the important developments that shaped labor and employment law in the past year, and will discuss the trends employers should be aware of as we enter 2007. We will evaluate the impact that the intersection of privacy and technology is having on the workplace. Our speakers will also discuss the legal developments affecting the enforceability of non-compete and non-solicitation agreements, and will share their insights into the current state of immigration law and how it impacts your company's ability to transfer and/or retain employees internationally.
