

WilmerHale's TechLaw 2005 Conference

2005-04-27

Technology companies are subject to a special kind of development and financial cycle and have a range of distinctive features when compared to companies from other industry sectors. They are also exposed to a variety of rapidly changing regulatory measures. This applies to all technology companies regardless of their size or age and irrespective of whether they operate in the IT, software, semi-conductor, biotechnology or other technology. The TechLaw2005 Conference will provide you with the information required to enhance your company's position in the face of global competition.
