

WMACCA Corporate and Securities Forum: M&A Accounting - Impact of the New Standards

2011-05-17

It's been two years since new accounting standards for business combinations took effect, significantly changing how companies report deals in their financials. Now that M&A activity is picking up again, this panel will revisit these standards and discuss how in practice they have affected transaction structures, economics and deal points.

WilmerHale partners Stephanie Evans and Thomas White are co-presenting this panel with David J. Piper of Deloitte Financial Advisory Services LLP.
