

Women in Bio: 2009 Annual Dinner

2009-03-24

This premier event for Women In Bio, entitled, "Scientist, Entrepreneur, Policy Leader: The Job is Not Yet Done," honors all women who have founded or co-founded a bioscience company. This evening will highlight their accomplishments and will provide an opportunity for guests to interact with them. Attendees will include women and men in the bioscience industry and those who support the industry. This is a national event which will draw attendance from across the country.

WilmerHale is a sponsor of this event.
