

LMG Life Sciences Honors Firm, Attorneys with Top Rankings for Third Consecutive Year

AUGUST 28, 2014

The 2014 edition of LMG Life Sciences has been released, and it includes the recognition of nine WilmerHale practice areas and 17 attorneys. WilmerHale, for the third consecutive year, is also named a 2014 "Lifecycle Firm," meaning the firm is regarded as one of the best, full-service law firms serving the life sciences industry.

LMG Life Sciences is a legal directory guide focusing on US law firms and attorneys who work with life sciences companies. The guide is produced by the Legal Media Group and is divided into multiple categories, covering traditional practice areas that relate to life sciences. Research for the publication was based on reviewing nearly 1,000 interviews and surveys completed by partners who are active in the market. LMG also spoke with clients and leading lawyers during the research process, in addition to reviewing public information.

WilmerHale is ranked in the following areas (separated by category):
