

---

Denver Business Journal Interviews Andy Spielman in Power Book Series

OCTOBER 24, 2017

The Denver Business Journal recently published the Power Book, an annual compendium of the 50 most influential people in Colorado and WilmerHale Partner Andy Spielman is included on the list. He is the only law firm managing partner included on this year's list.

Reporter Cathy Proctor spoke with Spielman about his work in public policy and natural resources law and his role in ultimately shaping Colorado's oil and gas regulations. "My practice is focused on the administrative and regulatory components of resource development—whether it's the recreation industry, energy industry, or the mining industry," Spielman said. "I help private entities understand what it will take for the public agencies to say 'Yes,' what constraints the agencies have, the limits and the authorizations." Read the article.