A Special Tribute to Today's Successful Women Leaders in Government, Technology, Business, the Law, and Education

2005-03-06

Partner Marianne K. Smythe was interviewed recently for an American Airlines program, "Special Tribute to Today's Successful Women in Government, Technology, Business, the Law, and Education Leaders," where she discusses the regulation of investment advisors and various safeguards that protect the investment community. The interview will be broadcast during the month of June 2005 to its 3.4 million monthly passengers on all American Airlines audio-equipped flights. To listen to the interview, click here.
