
American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 Provides Additional Funding for Renewable Energy and Clean Technologies

2009-02-18

On February 17, 2009, President Obama signed into law the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA). The Act contains significant direct spending programs, tax incentives, loan guarantee and bond programs to support the development of renewable and clean energy technologies. For more on the Act and its direct spending programs, see our recent Email Alert.