
Internet and E-Commerce Group Chair David Westenberg Named a Mass High Tech All Star

1999-10-01

Each year Mass High Tech, New England's high tech newspaper, honors the outstanding members of New England's technology community by naming them Mass High Tech All-Stars. The All-Stars are described by Mass High Tech as being "those people who set the bar that much higher. They make deals, or give other people the equipment and information to make deals. They set industry standards. They bring people and companies together. They organize. They develop new products and processes that will be with us for a long time."

We enthusiastically congratulate Partner David Westenberg, Chair of the Firm's Internet and E-commerce Group, for being named one of this year's All Stars. He joins Partner Paul Broutas as the only two lawyers to be named All Stars in the four years since Mass High Tech began recognizing the key players in New England's technology community.
