
Partner Hal Leibowitz Elected to Board of Directors of Massachusetts Telecommunications Council

2003-07-11

Partner Hal Leibowitz has been elected a Director of the Massachusetts Telecommunications Council (MTC) Board of Directors, joining a group of industry leaders who support telecommunications equipment and service providers throughout New England. The MTC provides community, advocacy, and business intelligence for its member companies, and enables and promotes the telecommunications sector as an economic driver for the Massachusetts economy.

"We are pleased that Mr. Leibowitz has been elected to the MTC Board of Directors," said Carol J. Meier, executive director of the Massachusetts Telecommunications Council. "Because of his experience in advising telecommunications companies at both the startup and expansion phases, Mr. Leibowitz is well qualified to offer strategic guidance to the MTC as we develop a pro-growth agenda on behalf of our members."
