
WilmerHale Counsels Dedrone in Securing $15M Series B Funding

FEBRUARY 16, 2017

Dedrone, a company offering security solutions addressing airspace vulnerabilities exploited by the advances in consumer and commercial drone technology, announced it has secured $15 million for its Series B funding round. The funding comes on the heels of Dedrone's rapid expansion in the security market. The new capital will be used to increase marketing and sales efforts, as well as investing in global research and development.
