
WilmerHale Counsels Kindred Systems' $28M Series B Financing

NOVEMBER 9, 2017

Kindred Systems Inc., a Vancouver-based developer of human-like intelligence in machines, has secured approximately $28 million in a Series B financing, bringing its total funding to $44 million. Kindred's team of scientists are exploring new types of cognitive architectures that can make any machine smarter. The company is focused on uncovering how brains learn through a physical body, and applying those learnings to create and teach a new intelligent class of robots that will enhance the quality of our day-to-day lives, and in particular, the way we work.

The WilmerHale deal team counseling Kindred was led by Peter Buckland and included Alexandra Fulton.

Read Kindred's press release to learn more.