Gabe Rosanio focuses his practice on complex intellectual property matters in the life sciences industry, covering multiple facets of IP patent practice, including discovery, IPRs, trials, appeal, and prosecution. Dr. Rosanio's recent clients include Foundation Medicine, Gilead and Bristol Myers Squibb.

Prior to joining the firm, Dr. Rosanio was a postdoctoral scholar at the University of California, San Diego, where he led a project developing screening techniques for mutations related to Autism Spectrum Disorders. He also developed sequencing methods for whole genomes in collaboration with a biotechnology company and identified critical mutations in human genomic data as part of a multi-institutional international project.
