JESSICA.LISAK@WILMERHALE.COM

Jessica Lisak's practice is focused on federal class action litigation and investigations. She regularly represents public companies and their officers and directors in federal securities litigation and enforcement matters, including securities fraud class actions, derivative litigation, and SEC, DOJ, and other governmental regulatory investigations, and in complex commercial litigation.

Ms. Lisak also maintains a robust pro bono practice and manages WilmerHale's legal clinics in partnership with The Lawyers Clearinghouse, a nonprofit organization providing pro bono legal services to homeless and low-income individuals. Ms. Lisak has helped clients apply for and be granted asylum, seal criminal records, resolve outstanding warrants, obtain public benefits, and appeal the denial of such benefits.

Professional Commitments

Ms. Lisak is a member of WilmerHale's Ethics Committee and the Pro Bono and Public Service Committee.

Ms. Lisak serves as president of the Lawyers Clearinghouse's Board of Directors. In recent years, she has also chaired the Development Committee and served on the Legal Clinic and Leadership Committees.

Ms. Lisak has also been an adjunct professor at Boston College Law School, where she has taught Negotiations.

Past Experience

Prior to joining WilmerHale, Ms. Lisak interned at the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office and the US Attorney's Office in Boston.
