Lauren Ige focuses her regulatory and government affairs practice on matters involving antitrust and competition. She has extensive experience representing clients in a broad range of antitrust and competition matters, including criminal and civil investigations, litigation, merger clearance, and counseling. In 2022, Ms. Ige was part of the trial team that won a precedent-setting victory for client DaVita in the first-ever trial of a criminal labor market allocation case brought by the Department of Justice. Ms. Ige has represented clients across multiple industries, including technology, healthcare and airlines.

Ms. Ige maintains an active pro bono practice focused on immigration matters.

While attending law school, Ms. Ige was a summer associate at the firm, an intern in the Antitrust Division of the US Department of Justice, and a volunteer legal intern for the AARP Legal Counsel for the Elderly. She previously worked as a staff assistant in the office of US Senator Mazie Hirono.
