

Rauvin A. Johl

COUNSEL

---

BOSTON

+ 1 617 526 6104

RAUVIN.JOHL@WILMERHALE.COM

Rauvin Johl represents a variety of clients on a broad range of litigation matters. She was previously a summer associate at WilmerHale.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Johl was a judicial law clerk for Judge Henry F. Floyd of the US Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. In law school, she was a participant in the Government Lawyer Clinic, where she worked in the US Attorney's Office, Organized Crime Division. She also participated in the Cyberlaw Clinic, advising on licensing concerns.

While in law school, Ms. Johl was a teaching and research assistant for Professor Jacob Gersen, worked as a legal intern in the Fair Labor Division of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, and served as Executive Policy Editor of the Harvard Law and Policy Review.

---

Solutions

Litigation

---

Credentials

EDUCATION

JD, Harvard Law School, 2017

Executive Policy Editor, Harvard Law and Policy Review

BA, International Affairs,
George Washington University, 2014

summa cum laude

Phi Beta Kappa

ADMISSIONS

Massachusetts

CLERKSHIPS

The Hon. Henry F. Floyd, US
Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, 2017 - 2018