Successfully represented Intel Corporation in a patent infringement action in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware in which the plaintiff sought more than $1 billion in damages, resulting in a jury verdict of noninfringement in Intel's favor.

Successfully represented a global car manufacturer in a patent infringement action involving four patents directed to collision avoidance and infotainment technology in the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington. The jury found in favor of our client and also found the plaintiffs and their CEO had misappropriated our client's trade secrets.

Represented biopharmaceutical company in a biosimilar case involving generic challenge to patents covering a blockbuster drug product.

Successfully argued before Patent Trial and Appeal Board on behalf of Intel Corporation in an inter partes review proceeding that invalidated a competitor's patent.

Successfully represented a manufacturer of GPS chips and software as a complainant in a Section 337 proceeding before the ITC and the US Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, resulting in a Final Determination that all six asserted patents were valid and infringed.

Successfully argued in Maryland's highest court that the state's lethal injection protocol was illegal under the state Administrative Procedure Act, requiring a suspension of all executions and ultimately resulting in a commutation of client's death sentence.
