Yeve Chitiga focuses her practice on broker-dealer compliance and regulation matters. She has experience advising financial institutions on banking law, government investigations and enforcement-related matters, derivatives law, and investment management. Ms. Chitiga has also advised public companies on federal and state securities law.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Chitiga worked at another Washington DC-area law firm, where she handled a variety of securities matters. While attending law school, she worked as a student attorney for the Washington College of Law Criminal Justice Law Clinic and as a judicial intern for the Honorable Rhonda Reid Winston of the District of Columbia Superior Court.

Ms. Chitiga spent several years working as an auditor for Wells Fargo and Wachovia Corporation before pursuing her law degree.
