Litigation and Dispute Resolution in Germany

Germany

Our German litigation and dispute settlement practice represents clients in all areas of national and international commercial law.

We possess many years of forensic experience in specialty areas such as antitrust and competition, public procurement, telecommunications and media, patent, IT and aviation.

This experience enables us to successfully represent numerous major German companies in ground-breaking litigation and arbitration procedures in the telecommunications, aviation and major plant construction industries, often working together with members of our international practice group.
