
International Litigation

Drawing on the collective experience of dozens of lawyers across multiple offices and practices, WilmerHale's International Litigation Group has successfully resolved countless cross-border litigations.

WilmerHale offers one of the most experienced and accomplished international litigation practices in the world, and its lawyers are widely recognized as leading authorities in the field. Over the past four decades, clients from around the globe have turned to us for advice and representation in connection with their most challenging and complex cross-border disputes, including a broad variety of cutting-edge and landmark matters in the United States, European Union and elsewhere.

Our lawyers provide pre-litigation advice and strategic counseling, and represent clients in national courts in the United States and Europe, and in international tribunals, where we have deep experience and a track record of success. Clients also depend on WilmerHale to oversee and coordinate proceedings in Latin America, Africa and Asia, where strategic guidance, political and cultural insight, and experience with local counsel frequently make a world of difference in reaching a successful outcome in foreign courts.
