

WilmerHale and Alsbridge Outsourcing Conference: Disruptive Technologies and End-of-Contract Options

JUNE 18, 2015

The end of an outsourcing contract raises basic questions—renew, rebid, repatriate or renegotiate? While selecting the right option is a challenge under the best of circumstances, emerging technologies and rapidly changing regulatory requirements make the decision process more complex than ever.

Join attorneys from WilmerHale's Outsourcing Practice, sourcing advisors from Alsbridge and buy-side peers for a half-day conference where speakers will discuss disruptive technologies, evolving regulatory standards, contracting practices and cybersecurity and how they impact end-of-contract decisions. Key questions to be addressed include:

- How are robotics and autonomies impacting sourcing options?
- How can I take advantage of the latest in cloud offerings?
- How are changing regulations affecting sourcing models?
- How to protect against growing cyber risks?

The conference will feature a keynote from former FBI Director and WilmerHale Partner Robert S. Mueller, who will discuss cybersecurity, focusing on cyber risks in an outsourced environment.
