
Mark Selwyn Named a Top Intellectual Property Lawyer by Daily Journal

APRIL 22, 2022

Daily Journal named Mark Selwyn a Top Intellectual Property Lawyer, marking his thirteenth appearance on the publication's annual list. The list recognizes an exceptional group of California-based attorneys whose accomplishments over the past year have made an impact on the field of intellectual property.

Selwyn's profile highlights his practice's cross-border expansion, which has occurred over the past several years. Selwyn, who is co-chair of WilmerHale's Intellectual Property Litigation Practice, posits that the field's evolving nature requires companies to think globally in their approach to IP litigation. The profile examines his ongoing work for a global technology client—which spans the US, South America and Europe—as evidence of his ability to take on cases both locally and abroad.
