
ABA Section of International Law Mexico Committee Newsletter, Issue 60

DECEMBER 2021

Kelsey Quigley is an editor of the 60th issue of the ABA Section of International Law Mexico Committee newsletter. The Mexico Committee, in partnership with the Universidad Panamericana de Guadalajara, presents Issue 60 of the Mexico Update. The issue features analysis of the legal cannabis regime in Mexico and the creation of a new Mexican Customs Agency. The update also features articles that examine COVID-19 vaccination policies and novel pandemic-related business considerations. And, as is the spirit of this update, the committee remains focused on the important lessons that can be drawn from comparative law—including, this month, by examining the global arenas of private equity and corporate governance.
