

Samantha A. Morris

SENIOR ASSOCIATE

NEW YORK

+ 1 212 230 8820

SAMANTHA.MORRIS@WILMERHALE.COM

Samantha Morris focuses her practice on complex litigation matters. Prior to joining the firm, she was a legal intern for the Center for Constitution Rights in New York and Reprieve, a nonprofit human rights organization in London.

During law school, Ms. Morris participated in NYU's Global Justice Clinic, where she worked a project related to the practices of extraordinary rendition, disappearances, proxy detention, and detainee abuse and submitted a merits brief before the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights. Prior to her legal career, Ms. Morris worked for eight years at Barnes & Noble, Inc., as a buyer, reviewer and marketing manager and was a senior account executive for a communications agency in Dubai.

Solutions

Intellectual Property Litigation

Litigation

Credentials

EDUCATION

JD, New York University
School of Law, 2021

*Senior Notes Editor, New York
University Law Review,
International Law & Human
Rights Fellow, Admissions Co-
Chair, Black Allied Law Students
Association, Director of Engagement, Rights Over Tech*

BA, Middle Eastern and Asian
Languages and Cultures,
Columbia University, 2008

Captain, Columbia Women's Lacrosse

ADMISSIONS

New York

LANGUAGES

French